ABOUT THE FACULTY OF EDUCATION

The Faculty of Education, University of Malaya was founded in 1963, and was initially named the School of Education. The School of Education offered the Diploma in Education to graduates who chose to enter the teaching profession. The school expanded rapidly and was upgraded to the status of faculty in July 1965. The Masters of Education (M.Ed) programme was introduced for the first time two years later and this was followed by the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D) programme in 1969.

Since its establishment, the Faculty of Education has successfully trained almost 20,000 graduates. From among them, more than 15,000 have graduated with the Diploma in Education, more than 2,282 with a Masters degree and about 3,500 with a Bachelor in Education Degree.

The Faculty is proactive in keeping pace with the ever-changing demands in the field of education. This includes the reappraisal of programmes and courses, curriculum revisions and departmental restructuring to accommodate new changes when as necessary.

VISION, MISSION AND OBJECTIVES

VISION
To be a centre of excellence in education and human capital development at the national and international levels.

MISSION
To generate knowledge while striving to be a centre of excellence in education and human capital development through teaching, research, innovation, publication and consultancy.

OBJECTIVES

• To produce competent teachers for schools and other educational institutions
• To produce experts in all areas of education and human development
• To become a postgraduate centre in education and human development
• To become a centre of innovation in basic and applied research in all areas of education and human development
• To become the centre of training and consultation in the field of education for organizations and institutions

DEPARTMENTS

In 1970, the structure of the Faculty comprised five divisions. However, because of new developments and paradigm shifts in the educational system, the Faculty had a series of restructuring and reorganisation exercises to enable the Faculty to realize its vision and objectives. The latest organizational restructuring was carried out in 2001 resulting in the formation of the following departments.

• Department of Curriculum and Instructional Technology
• Department of Educational Psychology and Counselling
• Department of Educational Management, Planning and Policy
• Department of Educational Foundations and Humanities
• Department of Mathematics and Science Education
• Department of Language and Literacy Education

Two research centres are also attached to the faculty, namely;

• The University of Malaya Centre for Family Research & Development (UMFRDC)
• Centre for Research in International & Comparative Education (CRICE)

The thrust of their contribution to academia as well as society is through teaching, research, publication and innovation.
The Faculty of Education, University of Malaya offers a variety of graduate programmes primarily focused on the current needs of the nation. These programmes are easily accessible, in different programme modes: Coursework, Research or Coursework & Research (mixed-mode).
